Background, etc.
Kommuninvest i Sverige AB (hereinafter the “Company”) works to achieve good governance and internal control. The Board of Directors is responsible for ensuring that the Company complies with the laws and applicable national and European regulations which govern the Company’s operations. The Company’s governance documents consist of documents adopted by the Board of Directors, the CEO, or the respective manager. The Board of Directors adopts policies and certain Board of Director’s instructions. If necessary, these governance documents can be broken down into instructions, which are determined by the CEO. The instructions can then be broken down into more detailed descriptions which are determined by the respective managers. The Board of Directors shall adopt policies annually and ensure that they are complied with and are regularly assessed in the course of business. The Board of Directors is ultimately responsible for ensuring that the Company has appropriate and efficient operations and a well-developed system for risk management and compliance. This policy covers the Company’s Board of Directors, management, all employees, consultants, co-operating partners, agents, and contractors involved in the Company’s operations. The policy is applicable to all parts of the business and also includes outsourced operations and areas. The CEO is responsible for implementing and monitoring compliance with this policy and reporting on this to the Board of Directors. It is also the responsibility of the CEO to assess and update the content of this policy annually or when necessary, and to present it to the Board of Directors, with any proposals for amendments.

1 Equality and diversity policy

The Company should be an inclusive and equal-opportunity workplace that takes advantage of the diversity and differences in its employees.

The Company shall actively conduct equality and diversity management, which means that:

- all employees shall be treated equally regardless of gender, gender identity or expression, age, ethnicity, religion or other beliefs, disability, or sexual orientation;
- gender balance shall be sought after for all positions in the Company;
- the recruitment process, salary setting, employment conditions, and career opportunities are equal and non-discriminatory;
- professional development and training are to be offered on equal terms; and
- diversity in the composition of the workforce shall be strived after based on established competence requirements.

1.1 Competence, suitability, and diversity of directors

When appointing directors, the applicable regulations and guidelines require that a broad set of characteristics and skills be considered in assessing the suitability of the person. Circumstances that promote diversity shall also be taken into consideration.

Through the employee representatives on the Board of Directors, employees bring a perspective and good knowledge of the Company's operations, which contributes to the diversity of the Board of Directors. Rules regarding working on the competence, suitability, and diversity of the Board of Directors are set out in the Board of Director's instructions.

1.2 Competence, suitability, and diversity of senior management

When appointing senior management (members of executive management), the applicable regulations and guidelines require that a broad set of characteristics and skills be considered in assessing the suitability of the person. Circumstances that promote diversity in the Company shall also be taken into consideration.

Under the current regulatory framework, the suitability must be reassessed in certain cases. The assessment of the suitability of senior management should also be carried out in the context of a general evaluation of governance of the Company.

The purpose of assessing the suitability of senior managers is to ensure that they are always of sufficiently good reputation, honesty and integrity, and possess sufficient knowledge, skills, and experience for their positions.

Senior management in the Company are considered to be the executive management and those responsible for the control functions. HR is responsible for providing detailed guidelines on how to evaluate the suitability of senior management in the Company.
